Dear Sirs,

I believe CDIC's deposit insurance to be inadequate in light of inflation, I'm sure your research supports and identifies this fact. Other deposit insurance schemes have recognized the need for higher coverage, again as you're aware.

I like so many other conservative investors seeking security, use the CDIC insurance limit at the $60,000 level, as a benchmark and guide to our decision making process. However, having different insurance limits at play in the market is unsettling and adds a risk-related-decision most are not experienced with, or capable of discerning nor should be asked to make.

I suggest the proper cause of action is for CDIC to review its mandate and raise the insurance coverage to and at Minimum $100,000.00 post haste.

Yours truly,
